In the event of a conflict between Podora Ltd and a Client, terms expressed in English and expressed in any other language, the terms expressed in English shall prevail over those expressed in any other language.

I. INTRODUCTION

1Market (hereinafter, the “Company” or “we” or “us”) is an Investment Firm operated globally by Podora Ltd, a company incorporated in Marshall Islands with company number 107838 which is regulated by the laws of Marshall Islands. The Company is required to take all reasonable steps to act in the best interest of its Clients when receiving and transmitting their Client Orders and to achieve the best execution results when executing their Client Orders and to comply, in particular, with the principles set out in the Law when providing investment services.

II. SCOPE

This Policy applies to Retail and Professional Clients, as well as to Eligible Counterparties (as defined in the Company’s Client Classification Policy). The application of this Policy to all the Company’s Clients is for the Clients to ensure that the Company to which orders are transmitted for execution has execution arrangements that enable them to comply with their ‘duty to act in the best interest of Clients and best execution’ obligations for their Clients.

This Policy applies when receiving and transmitting or executing Client Orders for the Client for the Contracts for Differences (“CFDs”) offered by the Company.

In case you have been categorised as an Eligible Counterparty, although this policy does not apply to you, in our relationship with you, we will act honestly, fairly and professionally and communicate in a way which is fair, clear and not misleading, taking into account the nature of you as a Client and of our business.

This policy is also applicable when providing the service of Portfolio Management.

III. LEGAL FRAMEWORK

This Policy implements the requirements of the applicable regulation, as this is subsequently amended from time to time.

IV. EXECUTION POLICY

The Company satisfies the following conditions when carrying out client orders:

- i. ensures that orders executed on behalf of clients are promptly and accurately recorded and allocated;
- ii. carries out otherwise comparable client orders sequentially and promptly unless the characteristics of the order or prevailing market conditions make this impracticable, or the interests of the client require otherwise;

- iii. informs a retail client about any material difficulty relevant to the proper carrying out of orders promptly upon becoming aware of the difficulty.

The Brokerage Department is the relevant department of the Company, to which the Policy mainly applies.

The Company proceeds with the establishment and maintenance of an Order Execution Policy, in order to ensure compliance with the obligation to execute orders on terms most favourable to the clients and to achieve the best possible results for its clients.

The policy outlines the process that the Company follows when executing trades, and assures taking all reasonable steps to consistently obtain the best possible result for clients through its order execution policy.

Senior Management shall review the policy on an annual basis or / and whenever a material change occurs that impacts the Company's ability to continue offering best execution of its clients' orders using the Company's trading platform.

The Company reserves the right to amend or supplement this Policy at any time. In such cases the Company will inform clients should any material change takes place.

IV.I. BEST EXECUTION FACTORS

The Company shall take all reasonable steps to obtain the best possible results for its Clients taking into account the following factors when dealing with Clients orders:

- Price
- Costs
- Size
- Speed
- Nature of the order
- Market conditions and variations
- Likelihood of Execution and Settlement
- Any other direct consideration relevant to the execution of the order

IV.II. BEST EXECUTION CRITERIA

The Company will take into account the best execution criteria for determining the relative importance of the execution factors:

- The characteristics of the client Client including the categorization of the Client as Retail or Professional
- The characteristics of the client order that are the subject of that order
- The characteristics of the financial instruments that are the subject of that order
- The characteristics of the Execution Venues

The best possible result will be determined in terms of the total consideration, representing the price of the contract and the cost related to execution.

The other execution factors of speed, likelihood of execution size, nature or any other relevant consideration will, in most cases, be secondary to price and cost considerations, unless they would deliver the best possible result for the client in terms of total consideration.

V. SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS

In circumstances where the client provides the Company with specific instructions as to how to execute an order and the Company has accepted this instruction, then the Company executes the order in accordance with that specific instruction.

If the client provides a specific instruction to carry out an order, then by executing that order the Company complies with its duty to provide the client with best execution. This might result in being unable to follow the Company's Order Execution Policy for that particular order and it is therefore noted that the specific instruction provided by the client may prevent the Company from obtaining the best possible result for the client as otherwise would be implemented according to this Policy.

VI. EXECUTION VENUES

Execution venues are duly authorized EEA Investment Firms to which the Company transmits clients' orders for execution.

It is understood that the Liquidity Provider(s) selected by the Company to act as Execution Venues might change from time to time due to the factors explained in this Policy. A list of the current Liquidity Provider(s) will be made known to Clients upon request.

The Client acknowledges that the transactions entered in CFDs with the Company are not undertaken on a recognized exchange, rather they are undertaken over the counter (OTC) and as such they may expose the Client to greater risks than regulated exchange transactions. Therefore, the Company may not manage to have an Order executed, or it may change the opening (closing) price of an Order in case of any technical failure of the trading platform or quote feeds.

Further to this, the Client agrees to the fact that his orders will be executed outside Regulated Market (e.g. Licensed European STOCK EXCHANGE) or a Multilateral Trading Facility (e.g. European Financial Trading System).

VII. ANALYSIS OF EXECUTION FACTORS

VII.I PRICING

In regards to a given FX or other CFD the Company quotes the higher price at which the client can buy, thus going long ("ASK") and the lower price at which the client can sell thus going short ("BID") the relevant FX or other CFD. The difference between the BID and ASK of a given FX or other CFD is called the spread, which can vary with the different types of accounts in FX or other CFDs.

The Company provides prices as these are obtained from its third party external providers/ liquidity providers. The prices of a given FX or other CFD are calculated based on the underlying asset prices.

As part of ensuring the best overall result for the Client, the Company ensures that the price provision to the client is comparable to a range of underlying price providers and data sources. In this respect, the Company shall review its independent price providers at least once a year to ensure that correct and competitive pricing is offered. Company's prices can be found on the Company's trading platform. The Company's trading platform displays the last updated prices available by its respective price providers.

Nevertheless, under certain trading conditions, as under high volatility causing rapid price fluctuations, the Company might not be in a position to execute the order placed by the client at the client's requested price. Under this scenario, the Company maintains the right to execute the order at the first available price, a situation which may be referred to as Slippage (see also Section VIII.I of the Policy).

In conditions of high volatility and/or low liquidity, slippage mode will improve the probability of trade execution but may affect pricing the Company is able to secure, and as result affect the profitability of the respective position.

It is noted that Slippage may be in favour or against the Client's position, while in call cases the Company shall treat equally any favourable and unfavourable slippages to the Client orders, i.e. both positive and negative slippages will pass on to the Client order.

VII.II. COSTS

For opening a position in some types of CFDs the Client may be required to pay commission, spread or financing fees. Commissions may be charged either in the form of a percentage of the overall value of the trade or as fixed amounts per unit of volume traded. In the case of financing fees, the value of opened positions in some types of CFDs is increased or reduced by a daily financing fee "swap rate" throughout the life of the contract.

Financing fees are based on prevailing market INTEREST RATES, which vary over time. For the CFDs that the Company offers, the commission or financing fees may not be incorporated into the Company's quoted price and are instead charged explicitly to the Client account. Details of commission, spread or financing fees applied are specified under the Company's Contract Specifications which shall be duly communicated to the Client via the Company's Website as well as through the platform.

Finally, the above-mentioned commissions and charges can be updated at the Company's discretion. In this respect such changes will be subject to a notification to the clients.

VII.III. SIZE

All orders are placed in monetary value. The Client will be able to place his order as long as he has enough available balance in his trading account.

Furthermore, if the client wishes to execute a large size order, in some cases the price may become less favourable considering the feed obtained from its price provider.

Finally, the Minimum size of an order may depend on each type of FX and CFD Client Account based on different lots. Information on lots, minimum and maximum size of a single transaction can be found on the Company's website

VII.IV. SPEED

The Company acts as an agent on the Client's behalf. The Company does not execute the Client Order as a principal to principal against the Client, i.e. the Company is not the Execution Venue for the execution of the Client's CFD. Therefore, the Company transmits Client Orders or arranges for their execution with the third party liquidity providers it is collaborating with. However, the Company places a significant importance when executing Client's orders and strives to offer high speed of execution within the limitations of technology and communications links.

VII.V. MARKET CONDITIONS AND VARIATIONS

Some factors may rapidly affect the price of the underlying instruments/products from which the Company's quoted price is derived and may also affect other factors listed herein. The Company will take all reasonable steps to obtain the best possible result for its Clients.

Whenever there is a specific instruction from the Client, the Company shall make sure that the Client's order shall be executed following the specific instruction.

Warning: any specific instructions from a Client may prevent the Company from taking the steps that it has designed and implemented to obtain the best possible result for the execution of those orders in respect of the elements covered by those instructions.

The Company provides to its Clients access to its Liquidity Provider, and endeavours to ensure the highest possible liquidity in the market. The Company cannot and do not, however, guarantee that its quoted prices will be at a price which is as good, or better, than one might have been available elsewhere.

VII.VI. LIKELIHOOD OF EXECUTION

When the Company transmits Orders for Execution the likelihood of execution depends on the availability of prices of the liquidity providers. In some case it may not be possible to arrange an Order for execution, for example (but not limited to) in the following cases: during news times, during trading session start moments, during volatile markets where prices may move significantly up or down and away from declared prices, where there is rapid price movement, where there is insufficient liquidity for the execution of the specific volume at the declared price, when a force majeure event has occurred etc. In the event that the Company is unable to proceed with an Order with regard to price or size or other reason, the Company will execute the order to the next available market price.

The Company may in its sole discretion, while making reasonable efforts for post-notification, alter transactions, not transmit, not execute or cancel an executed transactions if: (a) the transactions were executed by arbitrage/exploitation of market failures or off market rates; (b) a technical problem withheld the transaction from being executed as desired; (c) a liquidity provider has cancelled or altered the transaction with the Company; and/or (d) the transaction covering was failed or partially executed with the liquidity provider.

The Company is also entitled, at any time and at its discretion, without giving any notice or explanation to the Client, to decline or refuse to transmit or arrange for the execution of any Order or Request or Instruction of the Client in circumstances explained in the Client Agreement/General Terms and Conditions

VII.VII. LIKELIHOOD OF SETTLEMENT

The Financial Instruments offered by the Company, CFDs, do not involve the delivery of the underlying asset, so there is no settlement as there would be for example if the Client had bought shares. The Company shall proceed with the settlement of all transactions upon the execution and/or time of expiration of the specific transaction.

VII.VIII. DIFFERENT TYPES OF ACCOUNTS IN FX AND CFDs

The Company offers accounts to both retail and professional clients. Different types of account may be offered by the Company at which the initial level of minimum deposit, the BID-ASK spread, commission charges, percentage on return, minimum and maximum trade amounts and other relevant factors vary with the account type. Relevant information on the available account types can be found on the Company's website.

VIII. EXECUTION PRACTICES IN THE FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

VIII.I. SLIPPAGE

Slippage means that by the time an order is processed for execution, the specific price requested by the client may not be available. In this case, the order will be executed close to or a number of pips away from the client's requested price.

If the execution price is better than the price requested by the client this is referred to as 'positive slippage'. In contrast, if the execution price is worse than the price requested by the client this is referred to as 'negative slippage'.

Trading in financial instruments as FX or other CFDs involves slippage to appear in the normal course of trading and can appear in all types of accounts the Company offers. Slippage usually appears more often in periods of high volatility and illiquidity in the market thus making an order impossible to be executed at the quoted price.

Under the concept of slippage, the Company confirms that orders will be executed at the next best available market price in relation to the price specified on the client's order.

VIII.II. LEVERAGE

FX and other CFD are leveraged products which means a ratio is set that determines how much money a trader must actually invest in order to open a trade for a certain value. In addition the leverage can also be expressed in terms of what percentage the trader needs to invest for a trade. This percentage is called a margin requirement. In this respect the client may use margin to increase the potential return of an investment, thus using leverage. It should be noted however, that a relatively small market movement will have a proportionately larger impact on the funds the Client has deposited or will have to deposit; this may work against the Client as well as for the Client. For more details please refer to the Company's "Risk Disclosures Statement" available at the Company's website.

VIII.III. HEDGING POSITION

Hedging of positions is available in our trading systems. When the Customer opens a position in the opposite direction of an already open position of the same financial instrument, the margin of both trades will be charged. For example: the Customer holds a buy position of 1 lot (or 100,000.00 contracts) on a financial instrument. He decides to open a sell position of 1 lot (or 100,000.00 contracts) on the same financial instrument, the system will calculate and charge the required margin for the sell position. Aggregate Margin requirement for both trades (and of any additional open trades) will be available for the client on our trading platforms.

VIII.IV. ORDER MANAGEMENT

The Company ensures that, at all times, client orders are handled equitably and to client's best advantage. Client orders are executed in a prompt and equitable manner, taking into account the nature of the order and the best execution criteria mentioned in Section IV.II of the Policy. Similar orders shall be processed or executed sequentially in parity with the time of receipt and may be aggregated or pro-rated accordingly, unless the characteristics of the order or prevailing market conditions make this impracticable or the interests of the client require otherwise.

The Company undertakes to manage all client orders in accordance with the following principles:

Order execution shall be prompt, fair and expeditious and processed sequentially Allocation or reallocation shall be equitable and seek to protect from client detriment Types of orders accepted (but not limited to):

"Buy Limit" is an order to buy in the future, if and when the "Ask" price reaches a price specified by the Client. The current price level is higher than the price of the order placed.

"Buy Stop" is an order to buy in the future, if and when the "Ask" price reaches a price specified by the Client. The current price level is lower than the price of the order placed.

"Sell Limit" is an order to sell in the future, if and when the "Bid" price reaches a price specified by the Client. The current price level is lower than the price of the order placed.

Sell Stop" is an order to sell in the future, if and when the "Bid" price reaches a price specified by the Client. The current price level is higher than the price of the order placed.

"Stop Loss" is an order to close a position if the price reaches a price specified by the Client, Stop Loss order can only be used in conjunction with a market order or a Pending Order. It is intended to limit the Client's losses. For long positions, the price of the order can only be set below the current Bid price and when the "Bid" price reaches the price specified by the Client, the position is closed. For short positions, the price of the order can only be set above the current Ask price and when the "Ask" price reaches the price specified by the Client, the position is closed.

"Take Profit" is an order to close a position if the price reaches a price specified by the Client. Take profit order can only be used in conjunction with a market order or a Pending Order. It is intended to secure the Client's potential profit. For long positions, the price of the order can only be set above the current Bid price and when the "Bid" price reaches the price specified by the Client, the position is closed. For short positions, the price of the order can only be set below the current Ask price and when the "Ask" price reaches the price specified by the Client, the position is closed.

The Client can attach to any of the aforementioned orders "Stop Loss" and/or "Take Profit" instructions to minimize loss or to secure profit, respectively.

Pending Order Modification/Cancellation: The client may modify/ cancel a 'pending order' if the market did not reach the price level specified by the client.

Limit Orders: This is an order to buy or sell once the market reaches the 'limit price'. Once the market reaches the 'limit price' the 'limit order' is triggered and orders become a market order available for execution at the next available market price. If the 'limit order' is not triggered it shall remain in the system until a later date. In CFDs on FX, Spot Metals and Futures 'limit orders' should be placed a minimum number of pips away from the current market price.

Stop Orders (Buy Stop, Sell Stop, Stop Loss) guarantee execution but do not guarantee the specified price. When triggered, a stop order becomes a market order available for execution at the next available market price.

Market Order: This is an order to buy or sell at the current market price that is available.

The Company shall satisfy the following conditions when carrying out Client orders:

- a. ensures that orders executed on behalf of Clients are promptly and accurately recorded and allocated;
- b. carries out otherwise comparable Client orders sequentially and promptly unless the characteristics of the order or prevailing market conditions make this impracticable, or the interests of the Client require otherwise;
- c. informs all its Clients about any material difficulty relevant to the proper carrying out of orders, within a reasonable time frame, upon becoming aware of the difficulty.

IX. CLIENT CONSENT

By entering into a Services Agreement with the Company for the provision of Investment Services, the Client consents to be bound by the Company's Order Execution Policy.

X. AMENDMENT OF THE POLICY AND ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The Company reserves the right to review and/or amend the Policy and arrangements whenever it deems this appropriate without notice to the Client. The last and current version in force shall be the one posted by the Company in its website.

Should you require any further information and/or have any questions about the Policy please direct your request and/or questions to info@1market.com.
